Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

(unaudited)

(1) Basis of Presentation

During November 2022, the board of directors of Liberty Media Corporation (“Liberty”) authorized Liberty management to pursue a plan to redeem each outstanding share of its Liberty Braves common stock in exchange for one share of the corresponding series of common stock of a newly formed entity, Atlanta Braves Holdings, Inc. (the “Split-Off”). The Split-Off was completed on July 18, 2023. Atlanta Braves Holdings, Inc. (“Atlanta Braves Holdings” or the “Company”) is comprised of the businesses, assets and liabilities of its wholly-owned subsidiary Braves Holdings, LLC (“Braves Holdings”) and corporate cash.

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”). These accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements refer to the consolidation of Braves Holdings and corporate cash as “Atlanta Braves Holdings,” “the Company,” “us,” “we” and “our” in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements. The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company, its wholly-owned subsidiaries, and variable interest entities where the Company determines that it is the primary beneficiary. For consolidated entities where our ownership interest is less than 100%, noncontrolling ownership interests are reported in our condensed consolidated balance sheets. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in the condensed consolidated financial statements.

The accompanying (a) condensed consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2025, which has been derived from audited financial statements, and (b) the interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Article 10 of Regulation S-X as promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by GAAP for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation of the results for such periods have been included. The results of operations for any interim period are not necessarily indicative of results for the full year. Additionally, certain prior period amounts have been reclassified for comparability with current period presentation. These condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto contained in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025.

The preparation of condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the condensed consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The Company considers (i) fair value measurements of non-financial instruments and (ii) accounting for income taxes to be its most significant estimates.

Description of Business

Braves Holdings indirectly owns the Atlanta Braves Major League Baseball Club (“ANLBC,” the “Atlanta Braves,” the “Braves,” the “club,” or the “team”). The Braves’ ballpark (“Truist Park” or the “Stadium”), is located in Cobb County, a suburb of Atlanta, and is leased from Cobb County, Cobb-Marietta Coliseum and Exhibit Hall Authority. Braves Holdings, through affiliated entities and third-party development partners, has developed a significant portion of the land around and adjacent to Truist Park for a mixed-use development that features retail, office, hotel and entertainment opportunities (the “Mixed-Use Development”).

The Braves and 29 other Major League Baseball (“MLB”) clubs are collectively referred to as the Clubs. The Office of the Commissioner of Baseball (the “BOC”) is an unincorporated association also doing business as MLB and has as its members the Clubs. The Clubs are bound by the terms and provisions of the Major League Constitution and all rules and regulations promulgated thereunder as well as a series of other agreements and arrangements that govern the operation and management of a Club, which among other things, require each Club to comply with limitations on the amount of debt a Club can incur, revenue sharing arrangements with the other Clubs, commercial arrangements with regard to the national broadcasting of its games and other programming and commercial arrangements relating to the use of its intellectual property.

Split-Off of Atlanta Braves Holdings from Liberty

Following the Split-Off, Liberty and Atlanta Braves Holdings operate as separate, publicly traded companies and neither has any continuing stock ownership, beneficial or otherwise, in the other. In connection with the Split-Off, Liberty and Atlanta Braves Holdings entered into certain agreements in order to govern certain of the ongoing relationships between the two companies after the Split-Off and to provide for an orderly transition. These agreements included a reorganization agreement, a services agreement, aircraft time sharing agreements, a facilities sharing agreement, a tax sharing agreement and a registration rights agreement. The facilities sharing agreement and aircraft time sharing agreements were terminated as part of the Corporate Governance Transition (as defined below). In October 2025, Atlanta Braves Holdings and Liberty mutually agreed to terminate the services agreement.

The reorganization agreement provided for, among other things, the principal corporate transactions (including the internal restructuring) required to effect the Split-Off, certain conditions to the Split-Off and provisions governing the relationship between Atlanta Braves Holdings and Liberty with respect to and resulting from the Split-Off. The tax sharing agreement provides for the allocation and indemnification of tax liabilities and benefits between Liberty and Atlanta Braves Holdings and other agreements related to tax matters.

Related Party Transactions and Change in Corporate Governance

On August 21, 2024, Terence F. McGuirk (“McGuirk”), entered into certain shareholder arrangements with Dr. John C. Malone (“Malone”), pursuant to which Malone has granted McGuirk a proxy (the “Malone Voting Agreement”) to vote 887,079 shares of the Company’s Series B common stock owned by Malone, representing 44% of the Company’s then outstanding voting power, on director elections, the approval or authorization of executive compensation and other routine matters. Malone has also granted McGuirk a right of first refusal with respect to future transfers of the Company shares beneficially owned by Malone as well as certain appreciation rights with respect to the value of Malone’s shares of the Company’s Series B common stock.

The execution of the Malone Voting Agreement constituted a “Change in Control” of the Company as defined in Gregory B. Maffei’s Executive Employment Agreement, dated effective as of December 13, 2019, by and between Mr. Maffei and Liberty. As a result, on August 21, 2024, Mr. Maffei notified the Company of his resignation as President, Chief Executive Officer, Chairman of the Board and a director of the Company effective August 31, 2024. Mr. Maffei’s separation from employment with the Company was for “Good Reason” within the meaning of his Executive Employment Agreement. As part of that transition, Atlanta Braves Holdings and Liberty began transitioning various general and administrative services then provided by Liberty to the management of Atlanta Braves Holdings, including legal, tax, accounting, treasury, information technology, cybersecurity and investor relations support. Additionally, the then-current officers of the Company (with limited exceptions) stepped down from their officer positions, effective August 31, 2024, and members of the Braves Holdings executive team assumed these roles effective September 1, 2024 (the “Corporate Governance Transition”).

Seasonality

The majority of Braves Holdings revenue is seasonal, with the revenue recognized primarily during the second and third quarters which aligns with the baseball season.

ATLANTA BRAVES HOLDINGS, INC.

Income Taxes

Due to sensitivity in our estimated annual effective tax rate (the “AETR”) based on minor changes to our projected annual earnings (loss) before income taxes and the seasonality of our revenue, the Company is unable to reliably estimate our AETR as of the interim period. As a result, the Company has calculated the tax provision from income taxes for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025 based upon a discrete effective tax rate model which treats the current year to date period as if it were the annual period.

(2) Earnings Attributable to Atlanta Braves Holdings Shareholders Per Common Share

Basic net earnings (loss) per common share (“EPS”) is computed by dividing net earnings (loss) attributable to Atlanta Braves Holdings stockholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding (“WASO”) for the period. Diluted EPS presents the dilutive effect on a per share basis of potential common shares as if they had been converted at the beginning of the periods presented. There were no potentially dilutive shares of common stock excluded from diluted EPS for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025.

	Three months ended March 31,
	2026	2025
	(numbers of shares in thousands)
Basic WASO	63,906	62,574
Potentially dilutive shares ⁽¹⁾	498	746
Diluted WASO	64,404	63,320

(3) Property and Equipment

Property and equipment consisted of the following:

(4) Investments in Affiliates Accounted for Using the Equity Method

MLBAM	$ (785)	(411)
BELP	685	717

MLBAM

MLB Advanced Media, L.P. ("MLBAM") was formed in January 2000 pursuant to a vote of the 30 owners of the Clubs, whereby each Club agreed to cede substantially all of its individual Club internet and interactive media rights to MLBAM for an indirect 3.3% interest in MLBAM. The Company's investment in MLBAM is considered an equity method investment as the investment is in a limited partnership where significant influence is generally presumed to exist.

At the time of a prior acquisition, the fair value of the MLBAM investment exceeded the Company's proportionate share of MLBAM's net assets, resulting in excess basis in the investment in MLBAM. The excess basis as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025 was indefinite lived and aggregated to approximately $10.3 million.

BELP

Baseball Endowment, L.P. ("BELP") is an investment fund formed by the Clubs principally for the purpose of investing, on a long-term basis, assets on their behalf intended to provide a competitive market rate investment return while minimizing investment volatility. The Company's investment in BELP is considered an equity method investment as the investment is in a limited partnership where significant influence is generally presumed to exist. The Company records its share of BELP's earnings (losses) on a one-month lag.

Other Affiliates

The Company has 50% interests in various joint ventures that were formed to develop, own and operate hotels within the Mixed-Use Development. The equity method of accounting is applied to these investments as the Company does not have the ability to direct the most significant activities that impact their economic performance. In addition, the Company records its share of the earnings (losses) of these investments on a three-month lag.

League Wide Credit Facility

In December 2013, a subsidiary of Braves Holdings executed various agreements to enter into MLB's League Wide Credit Facility (the "LWCF"). Braves Holdings also established a special purpose Delaware statutory trust, the Braves Club Trust (the "Club Trust"), and transferred, among other things, to the Club Trust its rights to receive distributions of revenue from the National Broadcasting Contracts, which secure borrowings under the LWCF. Pursuant to the terms of a revolving credit agreement, Major League Baseball Trust may borrow from certain lenders, with Bank of America, N.A. acting as the administrative agent. Major League Baseball Trust then uses the proceeds of such borrowings to provide loans to the club trusts of the participating Clubs. Major League Baseball Trust has granted Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, the collateral agent in respect of the LWCF, a first priority lien to secure the borrowings under the LWCF. The maximum amount available to the Club Trust under the LWCF was $125.0 million as of March 31, 2026. The commitment termination date of the revolving credit facility under the LWCF, which is the repayment date for all amounts borrowed under such revolving credit facility, is July 10, 2030.

Under the LWCF, the Club Trust can request a revolving credit advance in the form of a Term Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR") or Base Rate loan. Each loan bears interest on the unpaid principal amount from the date made through maturity at a rate determined by Term SOFR or Base Rate, plus an applicable margin. A Term SOFR Advance has a margin of 1.20% to 1.325%, based on the credit rating of Major League Baseball Trust. A Base Rate Advance bears interest at the greater of (x) the Federal Funds rate plus 0.50%, (y) the prevailing Prime, and (z) SOFR plus 1.00%, plus a margin of 0.200% to 0.325%, based on the credit rating of Major League Baseball Trust. Borrowings outstanding under the LWCF bore interest at a rate of 4.86% and 4.89% per annum as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. The LWCF also has a commitment fee equal to 0.20% per annum on the daily unused amount of the revolving credit facility.

Incentive Plans

Prior to the Split-Off and pursuant to the Liberty Media Corporation 2022 Omnibus Incentive Plan, Liberty granted to certain of its directors, employees and employees of its subsidiaries, restricted stock ("RSAs"), restricted stock units ("RSUs") and stock options to purchase shares of Liberty Braves common stock. At the time of the Split-Off, such Liberty Braves awards were exchanged into RSAs, RSUs and stock options to purchase shares of Atlanta Braves Holdings common stock.

Subsequent to the Split-Off, the Company can grant, to its directors, employees and employees of its subsidiaries, RSAs, RSUs and stock options to purchase shares of its common stock (collectively, "Awards"), under the Atlanta Braves Holdings 2023 Omnibus Incentive Plan (the "2023 Plan") and may grant Awards in respect of a maximum of 7.25 million shares of Atlanta Braves Holdings common stock.

Awards generally vest over 1-5 years and have a term of 7-8 years. The Company issues new shares upon exercise or settlement, as applicable, of Awards. The Company measures the cost of employee services received in exchange for an equity classified Award (such as RSAs, RSUs and stock options) based on the grant date fair value ("GDFV") of the Award, and recognizes that cost over the period during which the employee is required to provide service (usually the vesting period of the Award). The Company measures the cost of employee services received in exchange for a liability classified Award based on the current fair value of the Award, and remeasures the fair value of the Award at each reporting date.

Performance objectives are considered in determining the timing and amount of compensation expense recognized. When the satisfaction of the performance objectives becomes probable, the Company records compensation expense. The probability of satisfying the performance objectives is assessed at the end of each reporting period.

The Company did not grant any options to purchase shares of Atlanta Braves Holdings Series A, Series B, or Series C common stock during the three months ended March 31, 2026.

The Company has calculated the GDFV for all of its equity classified awards using the Black-Scholes valuation model. The Company estimates the expected term of the options based on historical exercise and forfeiture data. The volatility used in the calculation for Awards is based on the historical volatility of Atlanta Braves Holdings common stock (and previously, Liberty Braves common stock). The Company uses a zero dividend rate and the risk-free rate for Treasury Bonds with a term similar to that of the subject options.

(7) Commitments and Contingencies

Collective Bargaining Agreement

In March 2022, the Major League Baseball Players Association (“MLBPA”) and the Clubs entered into a new collective bargaining agreement that covers the 2022-2026 MLB seasons (“CBA”). The CBA contains provisions surrounding revenue sharing among the Clubs, a competitive balance tax on Club payrolls that exceed specified thresholds, minimum player salary levels, an expanded postseason schedule and other provisions impacting Braves Holdings’ operations and its relationships with members of the MLBPA. Braves Holdings’ minor league players are also parties to a collective bargaining agreement. Approximately 10% of the Company’s labor force is covered by collective bargaining agreements.

There are two components of the revenue sharing plan that each Club is subject to under the CBA: a straight base revenue pool (the “Pool”) and the Commissioner Discretionary Fund. The size of the Pool is equal to the total amount transferred if each Club contributed 48% of its prior years’ net defined local revenue (“NDLR”). The contributions per Club are based on a composite of the prior three years’ NDLR and funds are distributed equally to all Clubs. Certain Clubs are disqualified from revenue sharing from the Pool based on market size. Club submissions of NDLR are subject to audit by the MLB Revenue Sharing Administrator and are subject to rules issued by the MLB Revenue Sharing Definitions Committee.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, Braves Holdings incurred $1.8 million and $1.6 million, respectively, in revenue sharing, which is included as an expense within baseball operating costs in the condensed consolidated statements of operations.

Employment Contracts

Long-term employment contracts provide for, among other items, annual compensation for certain players (current and former) and other employees. As of March 31, 2026, amounts payable annually under such contracts aggregated to $296.0 million in 2026, $198.4 million in 2027, $129.6 million in 2028, $63.3 million in 2029, $39.2 million in 2030 and $44.0 million, combined, thereafter. Additionally, these contracts may include incentive compensation (although certain incentive compensation awards cannot be earned by more than one player per season).

Litigation

The Company, along with the BOC and other MLB affiliates, is subject to lawsuits arising in the normal course of business. Although it is reasonably possible the Company may incur losses upon conclusion of such matters, an estimate of any loss or range of loss cannot be made. In the opinion of management, it is expected that amounts, if any, which may be required to satisfy such contingencies will not be material in relation to the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements.

(8) Segment Information

The Company, through its ownership of Braves Holdings, is primarily engaged in the entertainment and real estate industries. The Company’s chief operating decision maker (the “CODM”), the chief executive officer, evaluates performance and makes decisions about allocating resources to its operating segments based on financial measures such as revenue and Adjusted OIBDA (as defined below). In addition, the Company reviews non-financial measures such as attendance, viewership and social media. The financial measures utilized by our CODM do not consider intersegment revenue and expenses and, additionally, the CODM does not utilize assets presented on a segment basis to make decisions on allocating resources. As such, neither intersegment activity nor segment assets are presented herein.

The Company defines Adjusted OIBDA as operating income (loss) plus stock-based compensation, depreciation and amortization, separately reported litigation settlements, restructuring, acquisition and impairment charges. However, our definition may vary from similarly titled measures used by other companies. The Company believes this measure is an important indicator of the operational strength and performance of its businesses, by identifying those items that are not directly a reflection of each business' performance or indicative of ongoing business trends. In addition, this measure allows management to view operating results and perform analytical comparisons and benchmarking between businesses and identify strategies to improve performance. This measure of performance excludes stock-based compensation, depreciation and amortization, separately reported litigation settlements, restructuring, acquisition and impairment charges that are included in the measurement of operating income pursuant to GAAP. Accordingly, Adjusted OIBDA should be considered in addition to, but not as a substitute for, operating income (loss), net earnings (loss), cash flow provided by (used in) operating activities and other measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with GAAP.

The Company identifies its reportable segments as those operating segments that represent 10% or more of its combined annual revenue, annual Adjusted OIBDA or total assets. Additionally, the Company considers how each operating segment is managed due to the products and services offered, the technologies used, the revenue sources generated, and marketing strategies deployed when evaluating its reportable segments. As a result, the Company has identified the following as its reportable segments:

- Baseball – operations relating to Braves baseball and Truist Park and includes ticket sales, concessions, advertising sponsorships, suites and premium seat fees, broadcasting and other media revenue, retail and licensing.
- Mixed-Use Development – includes retail, office, hotel and entertainment operations primarily within The Battery Atlanta and the surrounding area.

ticket arrangements, as well as certain sponsorship arrangements. Deferred revenue is recognized as revenue when, or as, control of the products or services are transferred to the customer and all revenue recognition criteria have been met. The Company had long-term deferred revenue of $18.8 million and $18.9 million as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively, which were included in other noncurrent liabilities in the condensed consolidated balance sheets. The Company recognized $15.6 million and $4.8 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively, of revenue that was included in deferred revenue at the beginning of the respective year.

Significant portions of the transaction prices for Braves Holdings are related to undelivered performance obligations that are under contractual arrangements that extend beyond one year. The Company anticipates recognizing revenue from the delivery of such performance obligations of approximately $235.1 million for the remainder of 2026, $225.1 million in 2027, $188.1 million in 2028, $375.9 million in 2029 through 2033, and $188.0 million thereafter, primarily recognized through 2041. We have not included any amounts in the undelivered performance obligations amounts for those performance obligations that relate to a contract with an original expected duration of one year or less.

In April 2025, the Company, through a wholly-owned subsidiary, completed the acquisition of certain real estate assets for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $93.7 million (the "Acquisition"). Included within the Acquisition was a six-building office complex and the seller's interest in the underlying in-place leases. The Company accounted for the Acquisition as an asset acquisition and has allocated the total cost of the Acquisition, inclusive of direct costs associated with the Acquisition, to the net assets acquired based upon their relative fair values as of the Acquisition date as determined by management. The following table presents the allocation of the purchase price to the net assets acquired based upon relative fair value:

	Relative fair value	Weighted-average amortization period (in years)

This discussion should be read in conjunction with our accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements and the notes thereto and our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025.

Overview

The Company manages its business based on the following reportable segments: Baseball and Mixed-Use Development.

The Baseball segment includes operations relating to the Atlanta Braves Major League Baseball Club ("ANLBC," the "Atlanta Braves," the "Braves," the "club," or the "team") and the Braves' ballpark ("Truist Park" or the "Stadium") and includes revenue generated from ticket sales, concessions, broadcasting and other media revenue, advertising sponsorships, suites and premium seat fees, retail and licensing revenue, shared MLB revenue streams, including national broadcasting rights and licensing, and other sources. Ticket sales, concessions, broadcasting and other media revenue and advertising sponsorship sales are the Baseball segment's primary revenue drivers. Following the termination of the existing long-term local broadcasting agreement, the Braves announced in February 2026 the creation of BravesVision, a multimedia platform owned and operated by the Company that is the official local television home of the Braves.

The Mixed-Use Development segment includes retail, office, hotel and entertainment operations primarily within The Battery Atlanta and the surrounding area (the "Mixed-Use Development"). In April 2025, the Company, through a wholly-owned subsidiary, completed the acquisition of certain real estate assets adjacent to The Battery Atlanta (the "Acquisition"). The Mixed-Use Development segment derives revenue primarily from office and retail rental income (including overage rent and tenant reimbursements) and, to a lesser extent, parking and advertising sponsorships throughout the year.

Baseball revenue. Baseball revenue is derived from two primary sources: baseball event revenue (ticket sales, concessions, advertising sponsorships, suites and premium seat fees) and broadcasting and other media revenue. The following table disaggregates Baseball revenue by source:

	Three months ended March 31,
	2026	2025
	amounts in thousands
Baseball event	$ 23,738	883
Broadcasting	2,519	4,291
Retail and licensing	7,283	6,080
Other	12,206	17,367
Total Baseball	$ 45,746	28,621

Baseball event revenue increased $22.9 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily due to an increase in the number of regular season home games played, as well as contractual rate increases on season tickets and existing sponsorship contracts and new premium seating and sponsorship agreements. Broadcasting and other media revenue decreased $1.8 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily due to the timing of the commencement of the BravesVision media contracts as we transitioned away from our previous long-term local broadcasting arrangement. Retail and licensing revenue increased $1.2 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily due to the increase in the number of regular season home games. Other revenue, a component of baseball revenue, decreased $5.2 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year primarily due to a decrease in special events held at Truist Park, including hosting two games for the Savannah Bananas in the prior year period.

Mixed-Use Development revenue. Mixed-Use Development revenue is derived from the mixed-use facilities and primarily includes rental income and to a lesser extent, parking revenue and sponsorships. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, Mixed-Use Development revenue increased $7.7 million as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily due to a $5.0 million increase in rental income and a $2.5 million increase in tenant recoveries. Increases in rental income and tenant recoveries for the three months ended March 31, 2026, are primarily a result of the in-place leases associated with the Acquisition.

Baseball operating costs. Baseball operating costs primarily include costs associated with baseball and stadium operations. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, baseball operating expenses increased $7.9 million as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily due to a $3.8 million increase in major league player salaries, a $3.0 million increase in variable concession and retail operating expenses and a $0.6 million increase in other stadium operating costs due to the increase in the number of regular season home games during the current year period as compared to the prior year period, and a $0.7 million increase in broadcasting expenses associated with the production of BravesVision. These increases were partially offset by a $1.5 million decrease in expenses for special events held at Truist Park.

Mixed-Use Development costs. Mixed-Use Development costs primarily include costs associated with maintaining and operating the mixed-use facilities. During the three months ended March 31, 2026, Mixed-Use Development costs increased $1.9 million as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year primarily as a result of increases in operating costs associated with the assets within the Acquisition.

Selling, general and administrative, excluding stock-based compensation. Selling, general and administrative expense includes costs of marketing, advertising, finance and related personnel costs. Selling, general and administrative expense increased $4.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year. The increase is primarily due to a $1.1 million increase of sales and marketing costs associated with the increase in the number of regular season home games played this year, a $1.0 million increase of property taxes, insurance and other professional fees, and a $1.0 million increase in personnel costs.

Stock-based compensation. Stock-based compensation increased $3.9 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily due to an increase in average outstanding awards.

Depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization increased $3.9 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily due to certain real estate assets purchased as part of the Acquisition and various assets being placed into service in the prior year.

Operating income (loss). Operating income (loss) improved $3.2 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, due to the above explanations.

Non-GAAP Adjusted OIBDA. To provide investors with additional information regarding the Company's financial results, we also disclose Adjusted OIBDA, which is a non-GAAP financial measure. We define Adjusted OIBDA as operating income (loss) plus stock-based compensation, depreciation and amortization, separately reported litigation settlements, restructuring, acquisition and impairment charges. However, our definition may vary from similarly titled measures used by other companies. Our chief operating decision maker and management team use this measure of performance in conjunction with other measures to evaluate our businesses and make decisions about allocating resources among our businesses. We believe this is an important indicator of the operational strength and performance of our businesses by identifying those items that are not directly a reflection of each business' performance or indicative of ongoing business trends. In addition, this measure allows us to view operating results, perform analytical comparisons and benchmarking between businesses and identify strategies to improve performance. Adjusted OIBDA should be considered in addition to, but not as a substitute for, operating income (loss), net earnings (loss), cash flow provided by (used in) operating activities and other measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The following table provides a reconciliation of Operating income (loss) to Adjusted OIBDA:

	Three months ended March 31,
	2026	2025
	amounts in thousands
Operating income (loss)	$ (41,251)	(44,452)
Stock-based compensation	6,568	2,646
Depreciation and amortization	17,126	13,257
Adjusted OIBDA	$ (17,557)	(28,549)

Adjusted OIBDA is summarized as follows:

	Three months ended March 31,
	2026	2025
	amounts in thousands
Baseball	$ (32,333)	(39,600)
Mixed-Use Development	17,596	12,887
Corporate and Other	(2,820)	(1,836)
Total	$ (17,557)	(28,549)

Consolidated Adjusted OIBDA improved $11.0 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026, as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year.

Baseball Adjusted OIBDA improved $7.3 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026, as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily due to the fluctuations in baseball revenue and operating costs, as described above.

Mixed-Use Development Adjusted OIBDA improved $4.7 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026, as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily due to the fluctuations in Mixed-Use Development revenue and costs, as described above.

Corporate and Other Adjusted OIBDA loss increased $1.0 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026, as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily due to increased personnel costs and other professional fees.

Interest Expense. Interest expense increased $0.8 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026, as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily due to new borrowings related to the Acquisition and on the Company's variable rate debt partially offset by a reduction in interest rates on the variable rate debt.

Share of earnings (losses) of affiliates, net. The following table presents our share of earnings (losses) of affiliates, net:

MLB Advanced Media, L.P.	$ (785)	(411)
Baseball Endowment, L.P.	685	717
Other	(220)	16
Total	$ (320)	322

Realized and unrealized gains (losses) on financial instruments, net. Realized and unrealized gains (losses) on financial instruments, net are comprised of changes in the fair value of the Company's interest rate swaps driven by changes in the interest rate market.

Other, net. Other, net was relatively flat during the three months ended March 31, 2026, as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year.

Income taxes. The Company's tax provision benefit from income taxes decreased $2.3 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026, as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year, primarily as a result of the improvement in pretax book income as compared to the three months ended March 31, 2025.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, our effective tax rate was affected by the unfavorable impact of certain non-deductible expenses, such as executive compensation.

Net earnings (loss). The Company had net losses of $40.4 million and $41.4 million during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively. The change in net earnings (loss) was the result of the above-described fluctuations in our revenue, expenses and other gains and losses.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of March 31, 2026, the Company had $135.2 million of cash and cash equivalents. Substantially all of our cash and cash equivalents are invested in U.S. Treasury securities, other government securities or government guaranteed funds, AAA rated money market funds and other highly rated financial and corporate debt instruments.

Braves Holdings is in compliance with all financial debt covenants as of March 31, 2026.

During the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company's primary uses of cash were capital expenditures and debt service, funded primarily by cash from operations.

The Company's uses of cash are expected to be payments to certain players and other employees pursuant to long-term employment agreements, capital expenditures, investments in real estate ventures and debt service payments. The Company expects to fund its projected uses of cash with cash on hand, cash provided by operations and through borrowings under construction loans and revolving lines of credit. We believe that the available sources of liquidity are sufficient to cover our projected future uses of cash.

Sources of Liquidity

The following are potential sources of liquidity: available cash balances, cash generated by Braves Holdings' operating activities (to the extent such cash exceeds Braves Holdings' working capital needs and is not otherwise restricted), net proceeds from asset sales, debt borrowings under the LWCF, the MLBFF and the TeamCo Revolver (each as defined below) and dividend and interest receipts.

League Wide Credit Facility

In December 2013, a subsidiary of Braves Holdings executed various agreements to enter into MLB's League Wide Credit Facility (the "LWCF"). Pursuant to the terms of a revolving credit agreement, Major League Baseball Trust may borrow from certain lenders, with Bank of America, N.A. acting as the administrative agent. Major League Baseball Trust then uses the proceeds of such borrowings to provide loans to the club trusts of the participating Clubs, including the Braves Club Trust (the "Club Trust"). The maximum amount available to the Club Trust under the LWCF was $125.0 million as of March 31, 2026, which remains undrawn. The commitment termination date of the revolving credit facility under the LWCF, which is the repayment date for all amounts borrowed under such revolving credit facility, is July 10, 2030.

MLB Facility Fund Revolver

In December 2017, a subsidiary of Braves Holdings executed various agreements to enter into the MLB Facility Fund (the "MLBFF"). Pursuant to the terms of an indenture, a credit agreement and certain note purchase agreements, Major League Baseball Facility Fund, LLC may borrow from certain lenders. Major League Baseball Facility Fund, LLC then uses the proceeds of such borrowings to provide loans to each of the participating Clubs. Amounts advanced pursuant to the MLBFF are available to fund ballpark and other baseball-related real property improvements, renovations and/or new construction. In May 2021, Braves Facility Fund LLC established a revolving credit commitment with Major League Baseball Facility Fund, LLC (the "MLB facility fund — revolver"). The commitment termination date, which is the repayment date for all amounts borrowed under the MLB facility fund — revolver, is July 10, 2030. The maximum amount available to Braves Facility Fund LLC under the MLB facility fund — revolver was $36.2 million as of March 31, 2026 and was fully drawn as of March 31, 2026.

TeamCo Revolver

A subsidiary of Braves Holdings is party to a Revolving Credit Agreement (the "TeamCo Revolver"), which provides revolving commitments of $150.0 million and matures in August 2029. The availability under the TeamCo Revolver as of March 31, 2026 was $140.0 million, net of $10.0 million drawn as of March 31, 2026.

See note 5 to the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements for a description of all indebtedness obligations.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Except as discussed below, there have been no material changes in the Company's risk factors from those disclosed in Part I, Item 1A. Risk Factors of its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025.

Factors Relating to Our Business

Our broadcast company is a new and unproven business, and we may be unable to generate sufficient revenue from carriage fees, advertising, and subscription sales to offset the costs of operating our own broadcast network.

We launched BravesVision, a multimedia platform owned and operated by the Company, in February 2026. BravesVision represents a fundamental departure from our historical broadcasting model, under which we received contractually agreed-upon fees for broadcasting rights from a third-party regional sports network operator. Under the BravesVision model, we are directly responsible for all affiliation agreements, advertising sales, production costs, and other expenses associated with operating a broadcasting company. The costs associated with launching and operating this platform have been, and may continue to be, significant. We have limited experience operating a media network of this type, and there can be no assurance that we will generate sufficient revenue to offset the costs associated with this undertaking.

The BravesVision business model has no extended operating history from which investors can assess its likely financial performance. Our ability to generate revenue depends on a number of factors that may be outside of our control, including: (i) the willingness of cable, satellite, and streaming service providers to enter into and maintain affiliation agreements with us on acceptable terms; (ii) our ability to sell and retain local advertising and sponsorship inventory; and (iii) overall on-field performance of the Braves, which historically drives viewership and subscriber demand. If BravesVision fails to generate expected revenue, our financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows could be materially and adversely affected.

Operating a media production and distribution company such as BravesVision requires significant liquidity, personnel, and technology investment.

Unlike our prior broadcasting arrangements, under which a third-party network bore the costs and risks of production, distribution infrastructure, and staffing, BravesVision requires us to directly manage or oversee all aspects of our broadcast operations, including production, studio operations, technical infrastructure, content development (pre-game, post-game and any supplemental programming), sales, marketing, and distribution logistics. Although we have engaged third-party production and distribution partners, we retain ultimate editorial, commercial, and operational responsibility for BravesVision.

The successful execution of BravesVision will require us to, among other things: (i) hire and retain qualified media production, sales, and technology personnel; (ii) manage relationships with our production partner under our current arrangement (which may not continue indefinitely); and (iii) navigate the evolving technical standards of multi-platform video distribution, including broadcast, cable, streaming, and over-the-air delivery. If we fail to manage these operational requirements effectively, our broadcast operations could be disrupted, the quality of our product could suffer, and our reputation with fans and advertisers could be harmed.

Furthermore, the costs of operating BravesVision, including production costs, distribution fees, personnel costs, and technology expenses, may exceed our projections, particularly in the near term as we build operational capabilities. These costs will be incurred regardless of the level of revenue we generate. Any material increase in operating costs or failure to achieve anticipated revenue could result in BravesVision being dilutive to our financial results.

We may be unable to secure or maintain affiliation agreements with multichannel video programming distributors (“MVPDs”), virtual multichannel video programming distributors (“vMVPDs”), and other distributors on acceptable terms.

The commercial success of BravesVision depends in significant part on our ability to secure and maintain affiliation agreements that serve our broadcast territory. Carriage negotiations with MVPDs and vMVPDs involve significant leverage on both sides and are subject to commercial, regulatory, and competitive pressures. If major distributors decline to carry BravesVision, or if existing distributors’ affiliation arrangements expire or are terminated, a meaningful number of fans within our broadcast territory may be unable to access Braves games through their preferred service providers. This could reduce viewership, undermine our ability to attract and retain advertising revenue, and damage our relationship with the Braves fan base which could further impact other revenue streams, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Our affiliation agreements with MVPDs and vMVPDs typically include certain remedies in the event BravesVision fails to deliver a minimum number of Braves games. If the requirement is not met, we may be required to provide shortfall credits to distributors, which could materially affect our business and results of operations. With the ever-evolving national broadcast landscape, there is a risk that more Braves games are broadcast nationally, limiting our ability to satisfy these delivery requirements. In addition, some affiliation agreements contain “most favored nations” provisions which require that certain terms (including, potentially, the material terms) of such agreements are no less favorable than those offered to any similarly situated MVPD or vMVPD. If triggered, these provisions could reduce the anticipated economic benefits of such agreements.

In addition, as the media distribution landscape continues to evolve, we cannot predict the long-term viability of individual distribution partners, their subscriber trajectory, or their willingness to pay carriage fees at levels that make BravesVision economically viable. The continued migration of audiences from traditional linear pay-TV bundles to streaming and free over-the-air services may reduce the total potential distribution partners and adversely affect per-subscriber economics of our affiliation agreements.

Our advertising revenues may be adversely impacted by several factors, including the changing landscape of television advertising spending and advertising market conditions.

Shifting consumer preferences toward streaming services and other digital platforms and the increasing number of entertainment alternatives have intensified audience fragmentation and reduced content viewership through traditional linear distribution models. The advertising market is also evolving and sensitive to general economic conditions, consumer spending patterns, advertising agency influences (such as how those advertising agencies manage their clients’ marketing budgets and negotiate advertising inventory), and developments in artificial intelligence (“AI”) technology. Financial instability or a general decline in economic conditions could adversely affect the spending priorities of our advertising partners who might reduce their spending, which could result in a decrease in advertising rates and volume and in our overall advertising revenues.

Our advertising revenues also depend on our ability to accurately measure viewership and audience engagement. Although audience measurement systems have evolved and improved to capture the viewership of programming across multiple platforms, they still do not fully capture all viewership across streaming and other digital platforms. As a result, advertisers may not be willing to pay advertising rates based on the viewership that is not being measured. Our ability to generate advertising revenue is also dependent on our ability to compete in highly competitive, rapidly evolving industries, our ability to respond to changes in consumer behavior and our ability to consistently achieve audience acceptance of our content and brand. An inability to obtain audience measurement data that is acceptable to advertisers can lead to a reduction of advertising revenue, and our business, financial condition, and results of operations could be adversely impacted.
